The Star Will Publish Cordell Hull Memoirs

CORDELL HULL, who served as secretary of state 50 per cent longer than any predecessor in American history, at one of the most critical periods in the life of the nation, has written his memoirs narrating the major events of his career.

Mr. Hull's story, which will start in The Star Monday, Jan. 26, takes him from a small log cabin rented by his father in the foothills of the Cumberland Mountains in Tennessee to congress, the state department, and to many of the capitals of Europe and Latin America. He comes into contact with the leading men at home and abroad.

CORDELL HULL
Had History-Making Career

Readers generally, as well as historians, will find his account of his 12-year stewardship in the state department important reading in the understanding of our foreign policy of the epoch. Many events, hitherto wholly or partly secret, become clear and comprehensive for the first time through the memoirs.

Mr. Hull's story is replete with previously unpublished quotations from documents, including many memoranda of his conversations with foreign representatives, as well as with his own reasons for initiating or following a policy and his own estimate of its results.

Mr. Hull frankly discusses his relations with President Roosevelt and clearly brings out the points on which they differed, as well as the points on which they agreed. Though at times they had basic differences, which he describes, their relations throughout were pleasant.

MR. HULL'S STORY. from the time Roosevelt offered him the secretaryship of state, until his resignation Nov. 30, 1944, emphatically refutes the statement sometimes heard that President Roosevelt functioned as his own secretary of state. Mr. Hull gives numerous interesting anecdotes of his contact with the President and generally throws new light on the extent of Roosevelt's participation in and knowledge of foreign affairs.

In addition, he discloses his political relations with the chief executive and devotes an important chapter to the events leading up to Roosevelt's decision to run for a third term, prior to which the president had wanted Mr. Hull to succeed him.

Mr. Hull deals fully with the foreign relations of this country in the 1930's and during the Italo-Ethiopian and the Spanish civil wars. He describes the genesis of the American policy of the moral embargo at the time of the former and of our adherence to the policy of non-intervention during the latter.

MAN CONFESSES TULEY MURDER

Admits to Baltimore Police Stabbing Cleveland Girl with Kitchen Knife.

By The Associated Press

BALTIMORE, Jan. 13—A 23-year-old former inmate of a school for delinquents, who police said admitted the slaying of an 8-year-old girl, was ordered back to Cleveland today to face a murder charge.

Chewing gum and seemingly impatient at legal delays, Harold Beach, Jr., appeared in central police court and voluntarily agreed to return.

He is accused of the knife killing of Shela Ann Tuley on New Year's day. The little girl, on her way to buy cigarets for her father, was found dead on the porch of a house near her home.

A short time after arraignment, formal extradition papers for Beach were signed by Judge Edwin T. Dickerson.

Lieut. David Kerr, chief of the Cleveland homicide department, and Detective Arthur Willard announced they expected to leave by train with Beach at 4:40 p. m., (EST) for Pittsburgh. At Pittsburgh they were to meet William Smith, Cleveland director of public safety, who had started to fly to Baltimore but was grounded there.

Surrounded by officers and newmen at Central Police station, Beach admitted last night he had stabbed Sheila Ann after she resisted his advances.

The youth was arrested yesterday on a tip from Cleveland police while changing a tire at a Baltimore filling station. He had been employed there since last Saturday, Detective Captain Henry J. Kriss reported.

Beach, who said he spent five years in the Naponoch, N. Y., Institution for Defective Delinquents, left Cleveland the day after the girl was killed.

In his statement last night, Beach told police:

"She began to scream and I lost my head."

He said he was willing to sign papers waiving extradition.

Goes Over Story

He went over his story with Kriss, other police officials and newsmen last night. He smiled a great deal and once or twice laughed out loud at questions put to him.

Asked if he understood what he had done, Beach shrugged his shoulders, grinned wryly and replied:

"The most I can get is death—so what?"

Tuley, a 34-year-old machinist, said in Cleveland when told that Beach had confessed:

"If it is at all possible, I want to witness his execution. . . . Several days ago I was quoted in the papers as saying I hoped the individual who killed my child died as horrible death as she did. If this man is the killer, that still goes."

Beach told Baltimore police he had not come here to escape arrest—"I knew I wouldn't get away with it. I'd left fingerprints all over"—but to see his mother, who was divorced from his father when he was an infant.

He said "Before all this happened, I wanted to be a musician—to play the trumpet." He told how he had learned to play the instrument while serving in a New York state institution for delinquents from 1941 to March, 1947.

Beach declined to state why he had been confined, but Cleveland police said they had learned

TAFT SEES DANGER IN MEAT RATIONING

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 — Sounding a keynote of Republican opposition to meat rationing, Senator Taft predicted today it would revive black markets and lead to even higher prices.

The Ohioan told a reporter that while he is not completely barring rationing or price controls, he does not believe meat rationing would work.

"You have to set up just as big an organization to ration one item as to ration everything," Taft said.

"Besides, meat is the one thing most susceptible to black market operations. I am afraid that we would have a repetition of the time when cattle were killed widely on the farms instead of at the slaughtering houses, with the hides and other by-products being lost.

"Certainly the people who got beef through the black markets would have to pay even higher prices for it than they are now and a great many people would get practically none at all."

Although a handful of GOP lawmakers led by Senator Flanders (Vt) have said they believe meat rationing may be necessary by spring, Taft's views reflect the attitude of Republicans generally toward President Truman's appeal for stand-by power to restore rationing and wage-price controls on a limited basis.

The party skepticism and outright opposition came into sharp focus yesterday when Secretary of Agriculture Anderson plugged for meat rationing and wholesale price ceilings on meat. He testified before the senate banking committee, which is considering various bills to re-establish these wartime controls.

The committee assembled today to hear representatives of veterans' organization and Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach.

Icy Blasts from Canada Plummet Temperatures

By The Associated Press

Colder weather spread over a wide section of the country today and temperatures ranged from sub-zero levels in parts of the midwest to below freezing across Oklahoma and northern Texas.

The fresh icy blasts from Canada sent the mercury to 12 below in Minnesota—at Duluth and International Falls—and to one below at Minneapolis. Below zero readings also were reported in parts of North Dakota and in northwestern Wisconsin.

TRUMAN'S AIDE DROPS WHEAT TO BUY COTTON

Brig. Gen. Graham Says He Got Out When President Criticized "Gamblers."

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13—Brig. Gen. Wallace H. Graham testified today that he bought cotton—but no wheat—after President Truman's October 6, 1947, criticism of commodity market speculators.

The President's personal physician told the senate appropriations committee he had made a profit of $6,165.25 trading in commodities. He said he lost $11,012.86 trading in stocks. So he had a net loss of $4,847.61 on his trading of all kinds.

During a previous appearance before the committee Graham told it he sold out after the President publicly condemned commodity market "gamblers." This testimony later was challenged by former Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota, who said Graham did not get out of the market until after Stassen had inquired whether any White House personnel was engaging in such trading.

Switches To Cotton

In a prepared statement he read to the committee today, Graham said that he "assumed that the criticism the President made was of the buying of wheat or grain and I thought of that as commodities."

"I did not think he criticized the buying of cotton, for instance, and when the broker recommended cotton, I, of course, said to go ahead," Graham said.

Speculative trading in commodities is entirely legal, but Mr. Truman contended that "gambling" was running up the price of grain. Some grain exchange men dispute that contention.

A compilation submitted by Graham showed that he sold 100 bales of July cotton on Dec. 18. Another notation said "closed out against pur 11/29," indicating that the purchase in question may have been made on Nov. 29.

Graham conceded today that his broker, Harry Brisker, had acted under his orders in making purchases. He said he (Graham), assumed "full responsibility" for the trading that had been done. Previously he had said he told the broker to make purchases and sales when the latter thought advisable and did not know of all of his holdings.

Graham said that, against the advice of his broker, he had bought stocks which later dropped in price. He did not specify which stocks, but said he bought some shares in a Kansas City concern, first through a broker in Kansas city. He said he then switched his operations to the Washington broker.

Brisker, who handled Graham's Washington account, is employed by Bache and Co.

FIVE KILLED IN PLANE CRASH

Four Others Hurt as Airliner Falls in Rainstorm Near Washington.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13—An Eastern Airlines plane with nine persons aboard crashed on the outskirts of Washington during a rainstorm early today, killing five and injuring four.

The plane, enroute from Houston, Tex., to Boston, plowed into a grove of trees in the Maryland side of the Potomac river a few miles from the National Airport shortly after reporting it was coming in for a landing.

The twin-engine DC-3 was demolished, but there was no fire. Eastern Airlines said the cause had not been determined, adding that the pilot checked in with EAL by radio at 4:27 a. m. but failed to make contact with the airport control tower later as scheduled.

The dead were three passengers, the pilot and co-pilot. Three injured passengers and the flight attendant were taken to Casualty hospital in Washington.

Rain, slush, and muddy roads in the area hampered police and others in rescue work.

The five dead were identified by the airlines as:

S. M. Warner of Clinton, S. C., who boarded at Greenville, S. C., for Washington.

'CASE AGAINST PETRILLO' OPENS IN WASHINGTON

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13—Justin Miller, president of the National Association of Broadcasters, told the house labor committee today James C. Petrillo is an "economic pirate" who has become "the American public's symbol for bad union leadership."

Miller testified that Petrillo, through iron-clad control of the American Federation of Musicians, is seeking to destroy the record-making industry by "uninventing the phonograph." He said this is "hurting the real professional musicians."

The NAB president testified in a Hollywood-like setting before flood lights and clicking newsreel cameras. He is the first of several witnesses scheduled to tell the industry side of "the case against Petrillo" arising from the union leader's ban on record-making and his edict against the use of union musicians for television broadcasts.

Seek 5 Billion Budget Slash

Foreign Aid Program Appears Main Target of Republican Axe.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13—Republicans set out today to chop some $5,000,000,000 out of President Truman $39,069,000,000 budget for the year starting July 1.

The foreign aid program appeared likely to be the main target of the money saving drive.

A $5,000,000,000 slash was the tentative goal set by Chairman Taber (RNY) pending a meeting of the senate-house budget committee to go over details of the unprecedented peacetime spending estimate Mr. Truman sent to congress yesterday.

While Taber declined to specify just what items most likely would be singled out for cuts, he noted the President's estimate of actual foreign aid outlays during the year and his requests for funds to finance other projects not yet authorized by law run well over $5,000,00,000.

For example, he said, the President wants half a billion dollars to finance universal military training legislation, which congress has not enacted and which some of its top leaders expect to put aside for at least another year.

Taber pointed out that while the Marshall plan for European recovery contemplates a $6,800,000,000 appropriation for the first 15 months, the budget says only $4,000,000,000 of that sum will be spent during the 12 months starting July 1.

The New Yorker termed even that "too much."

And, Taber added, "the President's proposals for huge outlays for education, social welfare and housing, just to mention a few, seem way out of line even if congress does authorize these programs."

Whatever the decision on his $5,000,000,000 goal, Taber said he "wouldn't be satisfied with anything less" than a cut of $4,500,000,000.

Republican leaders are determined to ram through an income tax reduction bill this year that may trim by more than $5,000,000,000 the $44,477,000,000 in revenues estimated by Mr. Truman for the next fiscal year.

ALL 46 SAVED IN SHIP FIRE

Dramatic Rescue Enacted as Flames Sweep Transport Connolly.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Jan. 13—All 46 survivors who abandoned the Army's flame-swept funeral transport Joseph V. Connolly were safe today aboard two other vessels after a dramatic rescue from lifeboats in which they had tossed for 11 hours in raging North Atlantic seas.

Rescue of the 46—the Connolly's 45 crewmen and its lone passenger—was completed last night after an all-day air and sea search for the survivors who abandoned their blazing ship in a northeast gale some 900 miles east of New York.

The half - frozen men were picked up by the army transport Gen. R. E. Callan and the Black Diamond Line's union victory which sped to the scene after intercepting the stricken Connolly's calls for help earlier in the day. Long-range air force planes from Kindley field in Bermuda aided in the rescue.

The two ships reported all hands safely aboard with "minor burns and injuries among survivors."

The Gen. Callan, still standing by the Connolly late last night, messaged that the distressed vessel was ablaze "from stem to stern with constant eruptions from 40 to 50 feet."

An Army seagoing tug left New York harbor yesterday morning to attempt salvage operations but the Callan's master radioed that the tug would "not be able to come within one-half mile of the flaming derelict."

Cause of the fire, which originated in the Connolly's engine-room, had not been determined, the Callan said.

The 442-foot Connolly left here last Thursday enroute to Antwerp with 6,445 empty caskets to return additional bodies of American war dead from Europe. She had arrived here last October with 6,248 war dead, first such shipment since the end of the war.

Capt. Benjamin A. Bostelman of New York City was master of the vessel. The lone passenger was Army Capt. Charles H. Collins of Camp Kilmer, N. J.

WALDO DAM LEVEE BIDS TO BE ASKED

By The Associated Press

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Jan. 13—Bids on the final construction phase of the Delaware reservoir project on the Olentangy river in Ohio will be sought by the Huntington district corps of engineers following issuance of plans and specifications on Friday, the district office announced today.

Lieut. Col. John R. Sharp, executive officer, said the work calls for construction of a 5,000-foot earth levee to protect the village of Waldo in certain flood seasons, when a high reservoir level might be expected.

The Delaware dam already had been placed in limited operation. Work on the project will be completed with the acquisition of some additional tracts of land and construction of the Waldo levee.

Lewis "Zeke" Bekeza Named Cub Manager

Lewis Bekeza, a 30-year-old infielder and catcher who last year batted an unofficial .347 while managing the class D Elizabethton, Tenn., baseball team, was named playing-manager of the Marion Cubs today by Jack Sheehan, Chicago Cub farm director.

Bekeza makes his home in Chicago Heights, Ill., with his wife and child in baseball's off-season. He will come to the local Cubs with two year's experience as manager of the Elizabethton baseball club.

He began his career in organized baseball with the class D Owensboro, Ky., baseball club in 1938, moved to Jackson, Miss., in 1939, played for Jackson and Greenville, N. C., in 1940, and with Greenville and Vicksburg until leaving for the armed service in 1942.

A six-foot, two-inch righthander, Bekeza was on the class B Portsmouth, Va., National Defense list during the war and was re-instated in 1945. The Chicago Cubs assigned him to manage Elizabethton in the 1946-47 seasons. He hit .324 in 120 games with Elizabethton in 1946, and .347 in 110 games the past season. He weighs in at 195 pounds.

W. Dexter Hazen, Marion Cub president, said Bekeza qualifies as a class B baseball player.

In 1946, "Zeke" Bekeza brought Elizabethton from the bottom of the league to third place and the playoffs in 50 days of the season. He also carried the team into the final playoffs.

In 1947 the team was in seventh place about July 4, but Bekeza lead them to a fifth place finish and only two games away from the playoffs.

He was selected on the league All Star team both years he was with them and was chosen Elizabethton's most popular player last year.

LEWIS "ZEKE" BEKEZA

His popularity didn't end with the home team, for he was a drawing card over the whole league, hustling and fighting all the way. He hit 13 home runs for Elizabethton last year and ended the season near the top of the league in extra base hits and runs batted in.

Ordinance Reaches All Time High in City Costs.

An annual appropriations ordinance calling for an all time high of $889,383.63 for operation of the city of Marion during 1948 was approved by city council Monday night.

The appropriations for the year top the 1947 appropriations total of $793,440 by nearly $96,000.

Soaring costs of municipal operation including across the board salary increases to all municipal employes were tagged as prime factors in the appropriations increase for the current fiscal year.

Although topping the figure for 1947, the appropriation is below the total expenditure for the year. Additional appropriations made necessary last year boosted expenditures to $973,169, more than $181,729 over the original appropriations. Unforseen emergencies during the current year would be the factor in determining whether or not 1948 will see a new high in cost of operating the city.

Ball Park Lease Aired

An ironic touch was given the four hour session as the three-quarter million dollar appropriations measure took a back seat to a two hour discussion over the park commission's lease of Lincoln Park ball grounds to the Marion Cubs of the Class D Ohio-Indiana professional baseball league.

The appropriations measure, well back on the lengthy agenda which included council confirmation of Mayor Harry L. Dowler's committee appointments and the appointment of council president pro-tem and council clerk, included the following major fund appropriations for 1948:

General Fund—$374,214 as compared with $333,020 for 1947, an increase of nearly $40,000, necessitated largely by salary increases to city employes and administrative officials and a better than $300 per month boost in rental cost of city offices in the Eagles building.

Park Fund—$5,300 against $3,000 for 1947, the increase largely occasioned by a labor cost estimate of $3,700 for 1948, or more than the total park fund appropriation for the previous year.

Hospital fund—$329,000 against $273,720 for 1947, an increase of $55,000. Largest single item in the appropriation is $175,000 for employes with costs of supplies and equipment in addition nearly doubled.

Garbage fund—$78,960, or more than $10,500 up from the 1947 total of $68,400, with labor costs again the predominating factor noted in the increase.

Motor vehicles fund—$43,491.45 against $44,300 for 1947, the drop explained by completed expenditures of surplus accumulated during the war when materials for improvements were not available.

Gasoline tax fund—$58,458, or more than $12,500 under the 1947 figure, likewise occasioned by the using up of the fund surplus and return to estimates within the estimated resources certified by the county budget commission.

Appropriations within the general fund of $374,214 is within $3,000 of the budget commission estimate of resources at $377,728. The hospital fund appropriation of $329,060 leaves a margin of slightly over $5,000 from the commission certification of $334,295.

President Pro-Tem

Don R. Biggert, Fourth ward, was named president pro-tem of council by unanimous vote. Mrs. Mayme Gorton was reappointed council clerk and E. O. Uncapher approved as safety-service director.

Also approved by council were the following board and commission appointments made by Mayor Dowler:

O. C. Alspach to the health department, term five years.

H. P. Drake, to the park board, term three years.

D. W. Brickley Jr., to the recreation commission, term five years.

Dr. J. G. McNamara, Walter Guthrie, William Simmons, Harry Cahill, William R. Martin, Maurice Cohen, W. M. Fabian, James R. Smith and Harold J. Grigsby to the boxing commission, term two years.

Owen Sifrit, Herman Sickle and Ralph Slagle to the board of projectors, term, one year.

Herman M. Miller, new Fifth ward councilman, made his debut by placing before council an emergency measure which would repeal the city ordinance granting the park board authority to lease the ball grounds at Lincoln park.

The measure drew a suspension of the rules and in the vote on adoption lost unanimously with Miller himself not casting a vote.

Attending the meeting were Sid Tennant, pilot of the Marion Safety Cab Angels, professional football team, Gene Fetter, coach of St. Mary's gridders and also coach of the Angels, LeRoy Harvey, manager of the Marion Bluebirds, semi-pro baseball team, and Martin Lewis, local ball player.

Representatives of the Cubs present included Albert L. Ham-

Roving Reports

By Hal Boyle

WASHINGTON

THE only guy I know of in America who boasts nothing ever annoys him is Herman the Hermit.

Recently I wrote a list of pet peeves—minor vexations that put friction in daily living—and invited readers to send in theirs.

Well, it turned out practically everybody had some small dislike to toss into the scrap pile of things we can do without and never miss.

All except Herman. I don't know anything about Herman except that he lives at Los Gatos, Calif.

Hal Boyle

"I don't have any irritations, you see, because I am Herman the Hermit," he wrote blithely.

But this landmark in human contentment, this happy apostle of the frown-free life, stands out like a cheerful canary in a flock of somber grackles.

All the others chipped in with their favorite blood pressure raisers, and the census showed:

(1) What annoys men most is women.

(2) What annoys women is men—and other women, too.

A gentleman in Tucson, Ariz., and a lady in Seattle both wrote that they couldn't tolerate women who light cigarets and hold them so the smoke goes up other people's noses.

THE SEATTLE LADY, most vigorous on the woman-versus-woman theme, listed as one of eight types of women she disliked:

"Women who live in the kitchen, make their husbands sit there, and won't allow 'em to smoke or have a drink at home, but think it okay to slouch all over my turquoise satin cushions in their dirty work slacks, put their feet on my sofa, and spill ashes and drinks all over my living room."

A 77-year-old Kentucky mountain woman wrote that the two sounds that bothered her most were "the grating of buttons on my washboard and the strangled cough of someone drinking moonshine."

A miffed citizen of Columbus, Ohio, was mad about the most things. His record list of 37 complaints swept the boards from "lumpy gravy" to "women who think they are more feared than the atom bomb."

People who chain-drink highballs, fancy dancers, "telephone visitors" and check "fumblers" who duck their share of bills are the bane of one young Dallas girl's life.

FROM A LADY in Lakeland, Fla.: "A big fat man in shorts and a big fat woman in slacks."

A gentle reader in San Antonio, commenting on my own gripe about socks that wear out at the toe, advised crisply:

"If you would stop buying your socks at the dime store they wouldn't spring a leak so readily."

Others wrote in to rap people who use toothpicks in public, "B" movies and radio crime programs.

A cross-section of the letters revealed that the favorite pet hate from coast to coast, the one most agree is the biggest pest in American life, is none other than our old friend—

The guy who sits behind you at the movie and eats popcorn aloud!

If anybody loves him—even his mother—she didn't write in to defend him.

Robert Solinger Heads Inter-Club Council

Election of officers for the new year was conducted at a luncheon meeting of the Inter-club council, made up of representatives from each Marion service club, Friday at Hotel Harding.

Robert Solinger of the Chamber of Commerce was elected president; Richard Myers of the Y's Men's club, vice president; Robert Morrison of the Lions club, secretary, and Ralph Carhart of the Kiwanis club, treasurer.

Three new representatives from the Kiwanis club, which recently held election and installation of officers, were present. They are U. A. Nystrom, Ralph Carhart and W. E. Orcutt.

Several projects for the future to be taken up by the club were discussed.

Sale of Dog Licenses Still Behind 1947

The county auditor's office reports that as of Saturday dog license sales were still 500 behind those for the same date last year. In an effort to give dog owners all possible cooperation the auditor's office has forgone closing during the noon hour and will remain open from 8:30 a. m. until 4 p. m. each day except Saturday and Sunday until the license deadline, Tuesday, Jan. 20, when penalties for unlicensed dogs become effective. The auditor urges all dog owners to take advantage of the new period at noon when the office will be open despite the closing of all other county offices.

The latest report of dog Warden William Warner shows 24 dogs impounded. Of this number 8 were sold and 16 destroyed.

Youth Lends Simplicity and Reverence To Modern Funeral Service!

It is an accepted fact in present day mortuary science that youth is replacing the older directorship with a gentler, more sympathetic care and reverence.

Years of directorship given to a complacency of life tend to obscure the original approach of tenderness and sympathy of youth.

...ger's Mr. Truman's idea ...es government spend... ...ng off the public debt ...ng fiscal year.

...e year beginning July 1, 1948, and ending June 30, 1949. The government runs on a fiscal year instead of from Jan. 1 to the next Dec. 31.

MARLOW

The government can pay its way only so long as it collects more money in taxes than it has to pay out for expenses.

When expenses are greater than taxes, the government must borrow money from banks and other sources. It runs in debt then, the public debt

During the war the government's expenses were so much greater than the taxes collected, it had to borrow many billions of dollars.

That's why the public debt now is about $257,000,000,000. It won't be paid off in our lifetime. It can be paid off only bit by bit.

That's why the President and congress now want to keep expenses lower than taxes, so some of the debt can be paid off.

And that's why Mr. Truman, in his budget message to congress, said this is what he thinks the score should be in the 1949 fiscal year:

Taxes—the government should collect $44,500,000,000.

Expenses—the government figures to spend $39,700,000 000 leaving a difference of $4,800,000,000 in the treasury. (Mr. Truman looks for an even bigger difference this year—$7,483,000,000)

Public debt—that $4,800,000,000 left over—should be used to pay off part of that huge public debt and bring it down to $246,000,000,000 on June 30, 1949

WILL CONGRESS TRY to follow Mr. Truman's ideas right down the line" No.

From now till next June congress will try to cut government expenses even lower than the President figured. It tries this every year.

But this year—the election year of 1948—something else is mixed up in this whole business and makes congress' work even tougher

The Republicans in control of congress are bent on cutting income taxes. Some of them talk of cutting taxes as much as $5 600,000,000

Mr Truman had figured the government would collect a total of $44,500,000,000 in taxes. A Republican cut of $5,600,000,000 would bring that total collected down to $38.900,000,000.

But—that total tax of $38,900,000 000 would be $800 000,000 less than the $39,700,000 000 Mr. Truman figured the government would spend.

So—if the Republicans succeed in cutting taxes they'll still have to cut government expenses till they're below the amount of tax collected.

BY DOING THAT, they'd have some tax money left over to pay off some of the public debt.

Note this, though; when they speak of cutting taxes by $5,600,000,000, the Republicans mean income taxes only. They don't plan to cut or raise the tax on corporations.

Mr. Truman also says taxes can be cut but without the government's losing a penny below the total tax of $44,500,000,000 he wants it to collect.

His way of doing it is very different from the Republicans' He'd do it this way

Cut every income taxpayer $40 and another $40 for each of his dependents. But wouldn't this mean a cut in the total amount of taxes the government could collect? No, says Mr Truman

He'd make it up—the money the government loses on an income tax cut—by raising the tax on corporations (The Republicans said right away they were against raising the tax on corporations)

Well what happens? Will there be a tax cut, or not? You guess it. Nobody can tell at this point.

Anyway, you're warned; these next six months won't be quiet.

The guest artist, who appeared in numerous performances at service camps and hospitals during the war, presented a varied group of humorous monologs greeted by hearty applause. Several of the numbers she had presented while on the service tour with the talent show of the Fortnightly Music club of Springfield of which she is a member. She is a former teacher of drama at Wittenberg college, Springfield, associated with both the junior and senior civic theaters of that city, chairman of the play reading committee, and among other appearances she has done radio work at Chicago where she attended Northwestern university, receiving her masters degree in speech there.

High Court To Give Rent Control Ruling

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13—The supreme court yesterday agreed to rule on the legality of rent controls in peacetime.

The tribunal granted a justice department request that it review a decision by Federal Judge Paul Jones in U. S. district court in Cleveland that the 1947 rent control act is unconstitutional.

Judge Jones said congress cannot control rents under its war powers because the country is now, "in fact," at peace. He said congress lost its rent control powers on Dec. 31, 1946 when President Truman declared hostilities at an end. The act expires Feb. 29, 1948.

The Cleveland judge made his ruling in a case affecting Cloyd W. Miller, owner of an apartment house in that city. Federal housing officials obtained a court order to prevent him from raising his rents, but Judge Jones later upheld Miller's contention that the act is invalid and the order was quashed. The justice department appealed the decision directly to the supreme court.

C. & O. PLANS NEW LIGHTWEIGHT TRAINS

By The United Press

NEW YORK, Jan. 13 — New lightweight trains being planned by the Chesapeake & Ohio will cut schedules between New York and Chicago to 12 hours and slash the coast-to-coast time to 43 hours, the United Press learned today.

Present schedules take the traveler into Chicago 16 hours after he leaves New York and require 56 hours from New York to Los Angeles. As planned by the C. & O., the new train would cut the present 26½ hour run from New York to Miami to 18 hours.

This "revolutionary" train, according to advance description, will weigh only one-fourth as much as the present "lightweight" trains; will have a floor much closer to the rails than at present; and have a roof three feet lower than cars now in use.

Lowering of floor and roof will be accomplished through a change-over that will switch service equipment from under cars, as at present, to a headend car.

New cars will be designed to permit widening and thus give the rider more bedroom space. Wheel arrangements will be patterned on the roller coaster carriage designed in the 1880's, thereby reducing the danger of derailment.

SOYBEAN PRICE SOARS

...SHINGTON, Jan. 13—In a ...nion in which Justice Har...rton wrote the dissenting ...n, the conviction of John ...y Haley, a Canton, O., ...sentenced at the age of 15 ...e imprisonment in a fatal ...ng, was set aside yesterday. ...he majority, Justice Doug...scailed the happening in the ...while Haley was in police ...dy. He said there was "a dis...d of the standards of de... * * * underlined by the ...hat he was kept incom...ado for over three days ...g which the lawyer retained ...resent him twice tried to see and twice was refused ad...on."

...ey's attorney had protested ...e high court that the police ...Haley and that his conviction ...based on a confession im...rly obtained.

...tice Burton wrote a dissent in which Chief Justice Vinson and Justices Reed and Jackson concurred.

William Karam, a confectioner, was killed on the night of Oct. 14, 1945. The alleged confession stated that Haley and two other boys intended to rob Karam, and that Haley stayed outside the store to act as a lookout while the other boys went in. A jury found Haley guilty of murder in the first degree, and recommended mercy.

Says Confession Not Needed

For the dissenters Burton said that undisputed facts in the case "left comparatively little need for such a confession as was signed by Haley."

Burton said it was common knowledge today that many felonies are being committed by minors "and an obligation attaches to law enforcement officials to punish, prevent and discourage such conduct by minors as well as by adults."

In Haley's case, Burton said unusual care apparently was taken to preserve his rights as a minor. Burton added:

"It is for the trial judge and the jury, under the safeguards of constitutional due process of criminal law to apply even-handed justice to the determination of factual issues."

Burton said there was no "suggestion that racial discrimination or prejudice existed in the attitude of any of the witnesses, or of the courts or of the community of Canton."

Rules in Oklahoma Case

In another ruling the court ordered Oklahoma to provide immediately for the education of a Negro who desires law school training.

In the case decided Monday, Ada Lois Sipuel was refused admission to the Oklahoma university's law school when the state had no similar educational facility for teaching law to Negroes.

YOUTH TO GET RETRIAL IN STARK COUNTY

By Brush-Moore News Service

CANTON, O., Jan. 13 — John Harvey Haley, Canton Negro youth whose conviction on a first degree murder charge was set aside by the United States supreme court, will be returned to Canton for a retrial of the charges in the Stark county common pleas court.

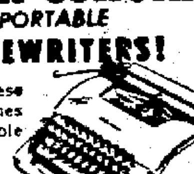

The decision was announced today by Prosecutor D. Dean McLaughlin, when informed of the supreme court's decision. "We will try for a conviction without using the confession," Mr. McLaughlin said.

Everett L. Mills, one of Haley's attorneys, said today the youth probably would be returned from the Ohio penitentiary in one or two days. He would be confined in jail here pending retrial.

Obituary

★As the cycle of time moves on, death plucks one here and one there. Sometimes it is in the budding time of youth; then again it may be during the strength of manhood; or in the relaxing time of the advanced years.

Carey E. Fox was born on the old Fox homestead Sept. 3, 1872, one-half mile from his home where his life ebbed away. He was the son of Jacob F. and Maria Lodwig Fox of Prospect. He was united in marriage April 4, 1907, to Ida E. Frayer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Frayer of Essex. On July 17, 1914, he was baptized and joined the Baptist church at Prospect where he still retained his membership and was a firm believer in the second coming of Christ and expressed to his friends at his bedside, "It won't be long until Jesus will be coming again." He spent his life tilling the soil and harvesting the golden grain. For many years, with his father, brother, Tom Butz and others he operated a threshing outfit.

During the past few years, his health failed. Having undergone two serious operations—one recently on July 31, 1947, from which he never fully recovered—suffering from complications, he departed this life at 6:40 a. m. Monday, Jan. 5, 1947, at the age of 75 years, 4 months and 2 days. A good neighbor, believing in charity, using as his motto—doing unto others as he wished to be done by, the fullest joy comes through sharing.

The grass withers, the flower fadeth, they all have their beauty in their day. The day of toil is passed, the darkness comes, the night of life, when death shall be our lot and the sky with clouds is overcast. 'Tis but a touch of winter that lays bare the spreading trees and as the roses bloom again, beyond the gates of death there lies the sweet eternal spring.

His father, mother, two brothers, a sister, grandson, nephew, and niece preceded him in death. Surviving is his devoted widow, Ida E. Fox, two sisters, Flora M. Grindell and Mannie M. Storey of Richwood, a niece, Esther Rush of Richwood, nephews, Leo Grindell, Milton Fox and Edward Shuster.

To this union were born no children, but Mr. and Mrs. Fox shared their pleasant country home with a foster son and daughter, John Pfleider aged 10 years; his sister, Irma Pfleider aged 6 years, encouraging their schooling, extended their parental love until they married. To their nephew, Milton, age 14 years, after the tragic death of his father, Harvey Fox and son Frederick, gave Milton the fatherly advice and aided with his schooling and graduation, with the help of others who were interested he became All American farm boy Jan. 1, 1942. He was a faithful companion and they worked together, planning the daily cares of each passing day.

Milton assumed the responsibility of the farm work five years ago. Mr. Fox will be sadly missed in the home and community. Everything was done that human power could do, the many kind deeds that were done for him to brighten up his suffering in his last days were greatly appreciated. But the pangs of death had fastened upon him. He leaves 10 foster grand-children, many relatives and friends to mourn his departure.

Not till the last loom is silent, and the shuttles cease to fly,
Shall God unfold the pattern and explain the reason why
The dark threads were so needful
in the weaver's skillful hand,
As the threads of gold and silver
in the pattern He had planned.
When it seems we cannot meet all of life's demands,
And the way is rough and hard,
our Father understands.
'Tis only in the night the stars are seen and walk with God are without intent.
Some glory for thy future He doth mean and even the darkest hours are heaven sent.
Thank God for the star the wise men followed and found it led to Jesus when the night had passed.
We too shall see Him the great judgment morning and dwell beyond the stars with God at last.

★Of my dear husband, George Walke, who passed away one year ago, Jan. 13, 1947.

I am sad within my memory,
Lonely is my heart today,
For the one I loved so dearly
Has forever been called away.
I think of him in silence,
No eye may see me weep,
But many silent tears are shed
When others are asleep.
Some may think the wound is healed,
But little do they know the sorrow
That is in my heart concealed.
Oh! what would I give to touch
his hand,
His happy face to see,
To hear his voice and see his

It would mean so much to me.

Just when his hopes seemed

God called him from among us
To his eternal rest.
Sadly missed, but God knows best.

MILLING PROCESS DESCRIBED IN TALK

Perry Cooper Discusses Mill Operations Before Lions.

Perry Cooper, manager of the Marion Milling Co., spoke to members of the Lions club at their weekly luncheon meeting Monday at Hotel Harding. His subject was "Milling Flour."

In describing the workings of the mill, Mr. Cooper told of the kind of flour handled by the company and how it is milled. He said the Marion company is one of eight owned by the Kansas Milling Corp., and is the only one of these eight in which soft wheat is milled. The local company is a 500 barrel a day flour mill, and in addition to this, has a large storage space. Soft wheat like that milled here, Mr. Cooper said, is for cake and pastry bakers, and hard wheat is for bread flour.

Mr. Cooper explained that wheat milled here is bought only in Ohio, except in cases of emergency when a little is purchased from Indiana, which also has soft wheat. Purchases are made in Ohio within an 80 mile radius of Marion.

Mr. Cooper was introduced by James Bonen.

Dallas Harruff and Earl Andrews were welcomed back, having recently returned from trips to Florida. Robert Scott announced a basketball game to be played last night between the Marion and Richwood Lions clubs. The annual charter night banquet and ladies' night party were announced for March 1.

Z. A. Richard of Marion was a guest.

Firemen Answer Two Calls; Damage Slight

Firemen answered two calls last night and today for burned out chimneys.

At 6:08 p. m. yesterday a passerby saw fire on the roof of the Mrs. S. E. Lewis residence at 219 Senate street and when firemen arrived they discovered that about 18 inches of the brick chimney under the roof had disintegrated. An estimated $25 loss was incurred.

At 7:48 a. m. today firemen were called to the home of Robert Clemens, 616 North Prospect street, where the chimney had burned out. No loss was reported.

Three Foxes Bagged In Drive at Pleasant

Three red fox were bagged in a hunt held Saturday in the territory of the Pleasant Township school, sponsored by the Pleasant Township F.F.A. organization. Approximately 300 hunters took part in the drive in which two Cooper hawks and two Great Northern owls were also killed.

Nearly 80 Boy Scouts and leaders participated in the hunt along with the regular hunters. Lunch was served at noon at the Pleasant school by the women of the Trinity Lutheran church.

Dollar Signs in the Wind

THE President's budget message is tougher stuff than his message on the state of the union. Arithmetic is a hard master.

There's no rosy uplift for weary citizens in 11-digit sums that show what's happening to the United States in terms of financial reality. They merely reveal what has happened and is likely to happen. The nation has been using its wealth to support an ever-increasing rate of government spending. It is sailing closer than it ever sailed before to the rocks of the loose fiscal policy that Franklin D. Roosevelt feared before he himself became Chief Executive and adopted the doctrine that American dollars were inexhaustible.

Aside from partisan attack and defense, from empty promises and brash predictions, this is what the budget message means:

The government wants to spend about $280 per capita in the fiscal year starting next July 1. Approximately $200 of this represents the cost of past wars and defense against future wars. The rest—about $80—represents the cost of government itself.

In other words, if war spending could be taken out of the new budget of $39,669,000,000, or if defense could be reduced to $4,000,000,000, the estimated cost of the navy department alone, the federal budget would be reduced to a total comparable to that before World War II.

With a vastly higher level of income to support government spending, the tax burden then would be negligible. Taxes could be slashed ruthlessly, and there still would be a surplus for debt retirement. It isn't the cost of government that has been running away, though it has risen by a substantial amount, due partly to inflation. It's the cost of modern militarism.

The question is whether the budget proposed is too large and therefore can be whittled down. The answer is that every budget can be trimmed if it has to be. It's human nature to ask for the maximum, in the hope of getting the minimum. Mr Truman's budget can be shrunk.

But it will be a miracle if any substantial reductions can be made in it because of the lopsided proportion represented by war and defense costs. What savings congress will make probably will be in appropriations for the ordinary functions of government, and in an election year many congressmen will be in a mood to add padding, not take it away. Furthermore, as was demonstrated last year, cuts are likely to be offset by new spending. The public gets the impression that money is being saved, but when the final totals are reached most of the saving disappears.

In 1915 the per capita spending of the federal government was less than $10 a year. For strictly government purposes, per capita spending now has reached about $150—15 times as much—and will go higher to whatever extent the federal government is given greater responsibility for welfare This is aside from the staggering costs of past wars still unpaid for, present insecurities and future defense.

The wealth of the United States is being consumed by non-productive activities; that is, by activities that produce no wealth to replace that which has been used up. Arithmetic is a hard master. It isn't interested in politics, either domestic or international.

Big Jobs, Low Pay

ANOTHER example of government failure to provide adequate pay for men in top-level posts comes to light with the appointment of Gen. Laurence S. Kuter as civil aeronautics board chairman.

Pay for the CAB chairman normally is $10,000 a year, less than is paid a regularly employed airlines pilot. In Gen. Kuter's case, however, congress has been asked to pass a special law to preserve his "military status and perquisites" while freeing him from "supervision and control" by the military. Thus it will be possible for him to take the post without the pay cut that would come if he were to lose his military pay and allowances.

Other important government posts can't be filled by such a stratagem. Instead, they are vacant or are filled by men who eventually yield to the more profitable offers of business or industry. That's the way it will be until a more liberal pay scale is drafted for important governmental posts.

Steady Improvement

ONLY Memphis, Tenn., and Birmingham, Ala., have been passed up by the Freedom Train because they were unwilling to suspend their race segregation rules for its visit. In the many other southern cities where it has stopped, there has been no segregation and no trouble.

The South's racial situation does improve, although slowly. Ten years ago the train would have passed up far more than two cities, just as 10 years ago there were eight lynchings in the South, compared with one in 1947.

Did You Know

Bagdad, once the fabulous city of the Arabian Nights and now capital of modern Iraq, is known as the city of silks and tiles because the art of making those materials has flourished there for 2,000 years.

Doors Open To Communism

By George E. Sokolsky

We Try To Close One in Europe, Leave Others Ajar.

THE object of the Marshall plan is to offset by dollar credits the spread of Russian imperialism and communism in western Europe. It is to be applied to those countries that this country believes can be saved from the Marxist menace. Should the Marshall plan be successful, it is assumed that because of the importance of such countries as Great Britain and France, the Russian movement will be contained in eastern Europe. The Marshall plan accepts the assumption that American credits can save Europe from communism, save a base for America in the event of war.

If one accepts this hypothesis, the Marshall plan is inadequate, because only one of three doors is shut by it. Russian imperialism marches on two fronts and communism functions actively on three. What does it avail to shut one door and have the other two wide open? It may even be asked whether the other two doors are not, from the American standpoint, more important. They are Latin America and China.

SOKOLSKY

The Latin-American situation should always have priority in American thought. Countries like Cuba, Mexico, Panama, Guatemala, Colombia, Venezuela are definitely more important to the United States strategically than many of the 16 countries of Europe which the Marshall plan seeks to bolster against Russian imperialism and communism So many Leftists have risen to power in Latin American countries that the United States needs to know whether its own defenses are down. It is of infinitely more strategic importance to be sure that we do not have unfriendly governments and peoples in Central and South America. The recent rejection of our troops from Panama passed as though it meant nothing. Actually the tone of that situation is of primary importance.

The so-called "good neighbor policy" of the Roosevelt administration, operated by Nelson Rockefeller, apparently left no favorable results. The policy was originally conceived by Stanley High, the journalist, who wisely realized that it was important for the United States to build a strong, popular alliance not only with the governments but with the peoples of Latin America. The peoples of those countries think of us as dominating masters. The "good neighbor policy" did not allay their fears. Spruille Braden's interference in the affairs of the Argentine increased their fears. And paradoxically they turned to the left.

What Countries Need

What all Latin-American countries need is the investment of surplus privately-owned capital in the mineral and agricultural and even in the industrial development of their areas. As a matter of fact, from a business standpoint, this is an excellent time for them to attract private capital because of the unfavorable conditions in Europe and Asia and the small return upon invested capital in the United States. If Latin-American investments could be made attractive, it is not beyond reason to assume that very considerable amounts of American capital would find its way south of the border. But that lodestone is not present as long as the governments of those countries find it politically advantageous to appeal for leftist support. Americans cannot invest in anti-American countries. What is more, they should not.

Door Not Closed

That door, at any rate, is not shut to Communist infiltration. While Nelson Rockefeller was sending such master-minds as Jo Davidson and Orson Welles to Central and South America to stimulate friendship for the United States, Soviet Russia sent Oumansky and a vast army of trained organizers to build a Communist base. Using Cuba and Mexico as their centers, they spread over a continent until they met the counter-forces of Peron, who defeated them in his area. We did not defeat them. As a matter of fact, we aided and abetted them during the entire course of war, as we did in our own country. Peron may be a Fascist but he downed the Communists who are and always have been our enemies.

Now the United States faces the fact in Latin America that we have to start right over again. But we ought to do it with knowledge and wisdom. Unfortunately, the state department, as at present organized, is inadequately manned for the task—which, by law, is delegated to it.

Will Improve To Suit Tenant

Plans are being drawn for construction of a balcony on the south side of the White House.

Beneath it, one supposes, there will be nightly serenades by would-be vice presidential nominees.

The $15,000 addition will be roughly in the center of the executive mansion. This comes as a surprise to those who figured, after last week's message to congress, that any changes would entail the enlargement of the left wing.

It was President Truman who proposed the balcony and he should feel right at home on it, having spent much of the last three years on a limb.

A New York architect is doing the plans One trusts, in the taxpayers' interest, that Senator Taft has been called in as a consultant.

Incidentally, the idea is to afford the President an opportunity to get some air while having some privacy. Of course, if the Republicans have their way next November, all Mr. Truman's life will be private.

Rumblings in Republican Ranks

By Joseph and Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON — The Eisenhower embroglio is a side issue, compared to the process now at work among the congressional Republicans. It matters much less whom the Republicans may nominate, than whether the forward-looking or backward-looking faction of the party is victorious in their long, grim, internecine war. And for present purposes, the decisive battle in this conflict within the Republican party is almost certain to be fought over the European recovery program.

Last summer, many Republican leaders hoped that this battle could be avoided. A new intimacy was established between Senators Arthur H. Vandenberg and Robert A. Taft during the joint struggle to wind up the congressional session. They seemed to be finding common ground. If the two opposing champions could find common ground, it was hoped that their followers might not fall out too violently.

In the interval, however, the situation has deteriorated materially. Senator Taft's statements as a candidate have aligned him fairly decisively with the extreme right wing of his party, (which is ardently supporting him). His statements on foreign policy have pretty well committed him to open opposition to Senator Vandenberg on the European recovery program.

Opposition Reinforced

And his statements as senate leader are arousing increasing opposition among the Republican moderates. It is significant that the leadership of this opposition now seems to have passed from such isolated Republicans as Senators Aiken, Tobey and Morse. These men have always fought Taft. But the problem takes on a new aspect when so practical a seasoned and sensible politician as Senator Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. takes the lead in opposing the Ohio senator.

A notable incident, in this connection was the dispute in the recent party conference over the declaration of policy by the Republican senators. Senator Taft had personally prepared his own draft, which he asked the conference to approve in toto. Among other things, the draft committed the party to permanent disapproval of such potentially necessary steps as meat rationing, and placed a large share of blame for raising prices on rising wages, without mentioning rising profits. Senator Lodge reacted to this proposed draft with some heat, and on his motion it was amended and toned down.

This was, of course, only a preliminary skirmish. The main struggle will take place, as already noted, over the European recovery program. As may be judged from the doings of the housleadership, the almost irresistible impulse of the more reactionary Republicans is to fight ERP by every flank attack they can devise. There is no doubt that the rock-ribbed senate old guardists, like Wherry of Nebraska. Brooks of Illinois and Kem of Missouri, will yield to this temptation. But Taft's own course is as uncertain. On two successive days last week, he rather contemptuously dismissed as unsatisfactory Senator Vandenberg's change in the ERP bill to remove the $17 billion total, and then almost failed to mention foreign policy in his sharp answer to President Truman's state of the Union message.

Regretful Remark

When a Republican like Taft finds fault with the foreign policy doings of Senator Vandenberg, and then rather conspicuously holds his fire on President Truman on the foreign policy issue alone, a certain inner puzzlement may be inferred. Senator Taft's private inclination may also be inferred from his regretful remark to more than one of his colleagues that Senator Vandenberg's actions have impaired the usefulness of the foreign policy issue to the Republicans in this election. But whether Senator Taft will yield to temptation, in the manner of Senator Wherry, is a rather different question.

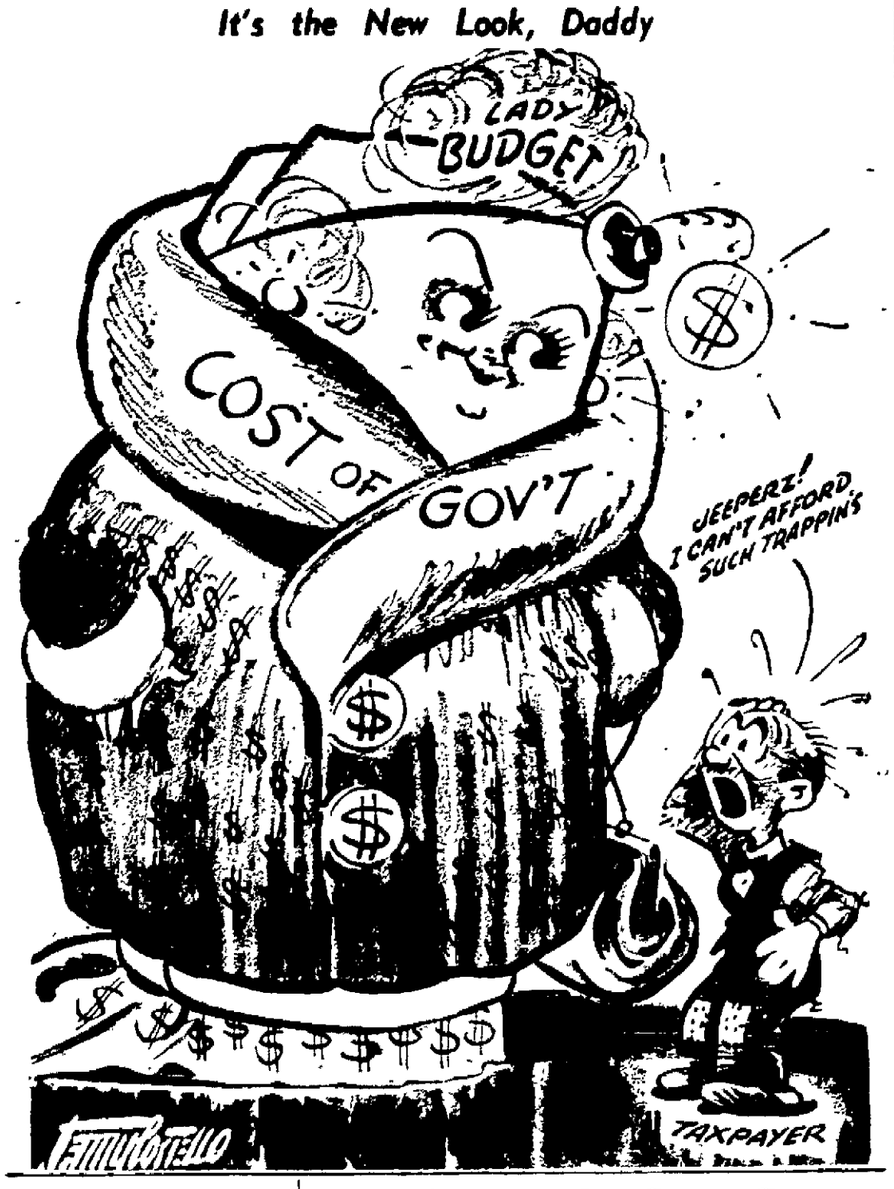

His advisers have urged upon him a strategy of voting as he chooses, but refraining from placing himself at the head of the organized opponents of ERP. The character of the man is such that it will be difficult for him to adhere to such a careful program when the struggle nears its climax. He will want to pitch in and lead the fight, and the Wherrys and Brookses will try to make him do so.

Peter had denied his Lord and abandoned him to resume his trade as a fisherman only a few days before. A man who had made a miserable record at last became a pillar of strength, steadfast as a great rock. — John 21:15: "Jesus saith to Simon Peter, "Lovest thou me more than these?"

It's the New Look, Daddy

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Thursday, Jan. 13, 1938. Senator Vic Donahey, Democrat, indorsed Judge Florence E. Allen of the Sixth circuit court of appeals for appointment to the supreme court.

Mrs. Mary C. Lawler, 79, died of pnuemonia at her home at the corner of King and Bexley avenues.

City council passed a $62,953.89 appropriation ordinance providing for expenses for the first two months of the year and continuing salaries on an 85 per cent scale.

Miss Louise Cunningham gave a paper, "The Restoration of Old Williamsburg" at a meeting of Captain William Hendricks chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, at the home of Mrs. Millard Hunt on Delaware avenue.

J. W. Llewellyn was elected president of the Marion County Association of General Insurance Agents.

The Silver Cross circle, King's Daughters, told by the county president of the need for money to buy shoes for under-privileged school children, contributed $5 to the shoe fund at a meeting with Mrs. T. R. Carskadden on East Washington avenue.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Friday, Jan. 13, 1928. Two men were arrested at a Kenton hospital, accused of attacking and robbing J. F. Landes, proprietor of a gasoline station on Kenton avenue at Silver street. One was wounded when Landes opened fire with a revolver as they fled.

Miss Katherine Eymon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs James H. Eymon, was elected May queen of Harding High school. She won in a class vote over Miss Mary Titsworth, who was given the title of maid of honor for the annual May festival to be held by girls of the high school physical education department.

A party of 40 visitors, including machinery dealers and construction contractors from various parts of the country, were guests of the Marion Steam Shovel Co. They came here in a special Big Four train from the American Road Builders' show in Cleveland.

Announcement was made by L. H. Wismar that the headquarters of District No. 6 of the state highway department would be moved from Marion to Columbus.

James E. Phillips of the Uhler-Phillips Co. was in New York on a buying trip.

Announcement was made that a group of cities in north-central Ohio including Marion would continue their fight against rate increases proposed by the Logan Gas Co. The announcement was made by Grant E. Mouser Jr., assistant attorney general and special counsel for the protesting cities.

Five Soviet engineers arrived here from Russia to discuss purchases of new machinery from the Marion Steam Shovel Co.

Diplomacy for State Dept.

By Walter Lippmann

NO doubt an agreement will be reached on how to administer the European recovery program. But it is odd that the state department announced its own plan before it had reached an understanding on this crucial point with Senator Vandenberg and the well-disposed leaders in both houses of congress.

One wonders how the department could have made such a mistake, how it could have forgotten so completely and so quickly what its own experience with the United Nations Charter and later with the satellite peace treaties demonstrated: That when a measure of foreign policy requires the approval of congress, the leaders of congress must participate in formulating the measure.

The neglect of this elementary rule means that the necessary negotiations have now to be conducted after the administration has committed itself publicly to its own plan.

LIPPMANN

What should and could have been a private and open-minded search for common ground among all who sincerely wish to achieve the same end, has now been allowed to become a public controversy in which the prestige of the president, the secretary of state, the department of state, the Herter committee are involved, in which there will now be firm stands, retreats, defeats, and victories.

The only beneficiaries of this unnecessary controversy will be the enemies of the recovery program abroad and its opponents here at home.

We have here a culminating example of what I think may fairly and accurately be described as the decline of diplomacy in the state department and in the foreign service. Since the end of the war it has become a growing habit, now almost an obsession, that the only way to conduct affairs is to begin by making a resounding declaration, and then to start lining up those who may be sympathetic for the purpose of overawing those who are not.

The diplomatic art, on the other hand, consists in preparing the way in a measure by exploring the difficulties in advance, seeking to reduce them, making it easy for the doubters to assent, saving the face of those who have to be turned around.

However, the art of diplomacy is rapidly becoming such a lost art that the administration is now dealing with congress as if it were dealing with Mr. Molotov in the council of foreign ministers.

We have the same procedure, the procedure of announcing the conclusions before the negotiations begin, the same habit of public declarations which, once they are made, mean that no one can compromise without appearing to surrender.

No Iron Curtain Here

Perhaps that has been the only way to deal with the Russians. But there is no iron curtain separating Senator Vandenberg and President Truman and Secretary Marshall, and one would suppose that at least inside the three-mile limit it would not be necessary for two co-ordinate branches of the same government to deal with each other at arm's length.

It would be difficult to measure how much the neglect of the accepted practices of diplomacy has aggravated the difficulties which our postwar foreign policy is running into. But there is no doubt that the difficulties have been greatly aggravated.

Take, for example, Greece. What we are attempting to do there has been made enormously more difficult because the administration announced in the loudest and most provocative tones what it was going to do before it had the money, the men, or any plan for doing what it was going to do. That announcement destroyed our influence with the Greek politicians who saw at once that we were so thoroughly committed that we would have to support them and could no longer draw back.

Any experienced diplomat could have told the state department that the public declaration committing the United States unreservedly to all who call themselves anti-communists would destroy our effective influence in Greece, and that then, lacking influence, we should have to implement our policy entirely with money and with power.

Money and power are, of course, indispensable in the conduct of a foreign policy. But without diplomacy to prepare the way and to soften the impact and to reduce the friction and allay the tension, money and military power are double-edged instruments.

Used without diplomacy they may, and usually they do, augment the difficulties they are employed to overcome. Then more money and more power are needed.

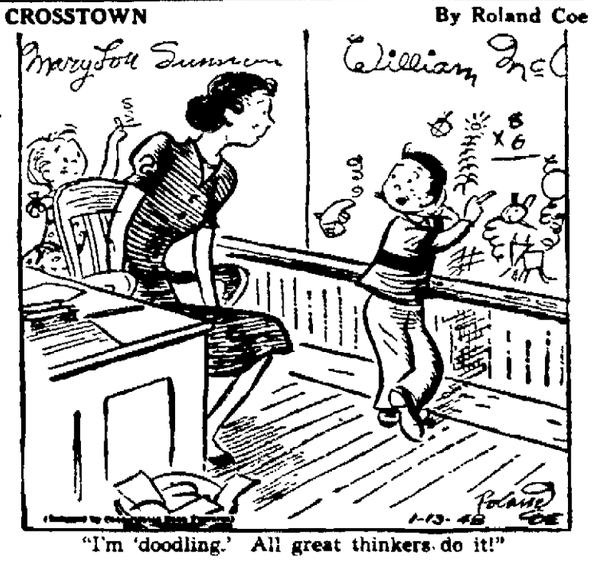

The American people are now supporting a large military establishment, and they will be asked, quite rightly, to enlarge it. They are being asked also, because it is necessary, to support a large program of economic rehabilitation.

Much Money and Power

Thus the managers of our foreign relations will have much money and much power at their command They will also have worked out plans for their policies. But money, power, and plans will not be enough if they do not recover soon the lost art of diplomacy, and begin to practice it.

A Letter of Sympathy

DEAR Joe DiMaggio:

Well a few days ago I seen in the paper that the Yanks has decided to pay you $65,000 to $70,000 a year this year and it is too bad that a thing like that has to happen to a nice guy like you.

For the last couple of years you had a tough time with chipped elbows and heels, and just when you got a right to hope you are out of pain and worry they ram you up into the upper income tax brackets. From now on you will know what real suffering is like, Joe, and if I was you I would not let them Yanks do that to me. I would see a lawyer and make a appeal.

For years you was one of the most underpaid boys in baseball but it was nice and cosy down there Now you go up where the state and government really start running the vacuum over you and you will find that none of them Johns Hopkins of Mayo Clinic fellers can do a thing about it, no matter how good they may be with heels and elbows.

You are in a tough spot, Joe. $70,000 is not enough to eat on regularly these days and at the same time it is too much for a man to get if he does not want the government to run a pipe line to his pants pockets. You are caught between the devil and the deep blue postwar economic situation. You will be really getting about $25,000 a year in old-fashioned money on account of the decline in the dollar but the tax department takes its cut just as if you were using a good dollar.

But a ball player has to give full weight according to the old standards because a home run has not declined and the ball has to go just as far as it ever did, regardless of what the war done to us. You cannot get a home run on a rat that has devalued itself so far it is only good for two bases.

* * *

I do not understand why George Weiss and Dan Topping done this to you. George has always been a kindhearted man and if anybody knows what a lot of trouble big money can get you into Topping does You was pretty lucky up to now. They made Bob Feller and Hank Greenberg and Ted Williams take money like $80,000 or $85,000, but fate was good to you and it seems that you got overlooked. The result was that nothing worse than a chipped elbow and a sprain on one heel could hapoen to you. But some enemy somewhere squealed and pointed out that you was being paid $40,000, (which was discrimination against them $85,000 players) and now you got to suffer like anybody else who makes a lot of dough.

Can you sue or something?

All good wishes,
OSCAR PURKEY

P.S.—I seen where you said your elbow was at one time so bad you could only comb your hair with your left hand. That will not worry you no more. When you get through with them income taxes on $70,000 you will not have no hair.

By TRUMAN TWILL

Dear Nephew: Well, I am glad we have all the boys and girls back in school. The best thing about vacation is that it's finally over. As for myself, I don't see the sense of knocking off in the middle of the school year anyway. It's an idea we swiped from the British, and it makes no sense in this country. I recall it was the British who used to adjourn the war during weekends and also found it necessary to take out time for tea. That kind of monkey business may be OK for the characters that E. Phillips Oppenheim wrote about, but not for people who take pride in getting things done.

In five more months, not counting Easter vacation, the school kids and their teachers will knock off for three whole months while they recover their strength for the beginning of the fall term. During those three months most of them, including a majority of the teachers too, won't crack a book. They will let their minds lie fallow while devoting themselves to the improvement of their bodies and their pocketbooks. I would not rob them of this opportunity, understand, but it does seem odd to me that everybody else in the world is expected to stay on the ball, except the people who need to stay on the ball most.

Education is the biggest single job we do in this country. We take education seriously, as we should. Yet we give ourselves the lie by clinging to a system of limited effort that came from European civilization that began to decay before we were well started on developing a substitute for it. If I am wrong about thinking that all the nonsense about long vacations and periods of senseless loafing was borrowed from Europe, let tell me where you think it was borrowed from. During the war, when the heat was on we switched darned fast to an American plan of college education and made more progress in months than the fuddy-duddy European system had made in years.

I'd like to see things rearranged so a boy or a girl who had to scratch for a living wouldn't be wasting so much time while learning. A 30-hour week for pupils is absurd, especially when almost a third of the weeks of the year are taken out with holidays. Of course. I never was exposed to the rigors of the classroom, so maybe I am underestimating the fatigue that comes from learning how to read and write and who discovered America. All I know is that other people seem to hold up pretty well over longer working periods, also that the movement up has been afoot to trim their time down to the same skinny proportions as the time spent getting educated is one of the reasons we aren't getting as much production as we need for our own security. What would happen, do you suppose, if they put starting and stopping whistles on the farms—how long would it be before all of us got good and hungry and demanded that the farmers do their jobs right?

I hope this won't offend you because I know you are an apostle of organized laziness but it was something I needed to get off my chest. I happen to think education is the hope of the world and I hate to see the scholars and the instructors wasting so much time. Regards to the family.

Distressing Skin Condition

... people the fat-secret-... of the skin tend to be ... mulated into over-activ-... may—and often does—... a widespread and dis-... inflammation of the skin. ... formation of greasy ... ondition may first become a problem during the adolescent or maturing period, but it is not by any means confined to that age. We still do not understand the causes which bring out the harmful activity of the fat glands. It is evidently not due to an infection; neither does it seem to be related to disturbances of the glands of internal secretion. Diet may be a factor.

As usual, when underlying causes have not been found, no one sovereign remedy has been discovered either. Instead, various measures have been tried, nearly all of which give good results in some cases, but none of which helps all who are afflicted. Some patients do better with a diet low in fats. Others may benefit from a restriction of the starchy foods and sugars. In an occasional instance, large amounts of the B-complex vitamin may help and injections of the liver extract have also been found beneficial.

Since none of these methods of treatment can be relied upon to bring about improvement in all cases, local treatment of the skin eruption must be employed. As a wide variety of substances are available for this purpose, the physician must decide which one will be the most beneficial in a particular case. Such things as sulfur, salicylic acid, resorcin, ichthyol and various tar preparations have been used alone or in combination.

The rash is often present on the scalp. Lotions containing mercuric bichloride, resorcinol or phenol and salicylic acid are frequently helpful in the treatment of the scalp. Sulfur, ammoniated mercury, or tar creams may be used in the more stubborn cases.

If the face is affected and ointments are used on the scalp, they should be employed in half strength.

The seborrheic dermatitis may spread to the armpits, to the regions under the breasts, and around the navel, as well as into the groin. In such cases, the inflammation of the skin is acute and severe and, sometimes, it may be necessary for the patient to be put to bed or hospitalized. In such instances, only mild, non-irritating preparations are used, such as soothing baths and boric acid ointment, wet dressings, and simple lotions. As the inflammation of the skin begins to clear up, stronger preparations may be started.

There seems to be little that can be done in the way of preventing a recurrence of this condition. However, attention to the diet, making sure that it is well balanced; keeping the scalp clean and avoiding irritation on the skin area where the rash is most likely to occur, are helpful. It may also be advisable to continue treatment for some time after the disorder is apparently cured.

Commissioners Tour Huber Co. Plant As Feature of Meeting

A two-hour tour through the plant of the Huber Manufacturing Co. yesterday afternoon and a talk by Harry Metcalf, chief of motor transportation of the Ohio state highway department, at Hotel Harding last night, highlighted the bi-monthly meeting of the Central Northwestern Commissioners association.

The Huber company served as hosts for the meeting, which was attended by approximately 60 county commissioners and guests from nine counties — Marion, Hardin, Logan, Union, Delaware, Morrow, Wyandot, Crawford and Seneca. At the business session at the Hotel Harding last night the association voted to add two more counties to its ranks—Ashland and Richland.

Huber officials conducted the commissioners and their guests on an extensive tour through the Huber plant yesterday afternoon. The group observed the concern's entire manufacturing facilities, including the modern machine shop, which started operation in March, 1946. The full line of Huber machines was on display in a large room and several machines, including several sizes of road rollers and maintainers, were put through their paces in a special demonstration program.

Following a brief business session, Mr. Metcalf delivered a 45-minute talk on the operation of state highways departments in Ohio and other states. He laid particular emphasis on the Kentucky state highway department with which he was associated before joining the Ohio department.

Mr. Metcalf stressed the importance of the county commissioner and engineer in the overall highway program in Ohio.

Mr. Metcalf's talk was preceded by a social hour, dinner and brief business session. Carl Lehner, Marion county commissioner and association president, was in charge of the business session and introduced the various county commissioners, who in turn introduced the guests from their respective counties.

Following the business session, Walter S. Guthrie, clerk of the Marion county commissioners and association secretary, introduced the master of ceremonies for the program, Glen Porter, district sales manager of the Huber company. Mr. Porter introduced various Huber officials, including Don A. Howard, president and general manager, who gave a brief welcoming address.

Other Guests Here

In addition to Mr. Metcalf, the following state highway officials were guests of the Huber company at the association meet: Fred Wolf, assistant superintendent of motor transportation; Cecil R. Leavens, purchasing agent; and Clyde Porterfield, superintendent of the Delaware division.

Mr. Leavens is a former county engineer of Marion county and safety-service director of the city of Marion. Mr. Porterfield formerly was in charge of the Marion county branch of the state highway department.

Following Mr. Metcalf's talk two films were shown. One reel showed various Huber machines operating in the field and the other, owned by the Barrette Oil Company of Columbus, traced the development of American roads and highways from the dirt lanes of a half-century ago to the four-lane and super highways of today.

Musical entertainment during the social hour and dinner was provided by Miss Virginia Grover and Mrs. Goldie Swope of Marion.

The next meeting of the commissioners association will be held in Delawnre, March 8.

RAILROADS RESUME TALKS WITH UNIONS

By The United Press

CHICAGO, Jan. 12—The National Mediation Board has resumed conference with railroad officials and representatives of three key railroad unions which threaten a nationwide strike.

The conferences were recessed for the holidays Dec. 18 and were reopened Monday. They were begun last Nov. 24 after direct negotiations between the railroads and the unions failed to produce an agreement.

The unions involved are the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Firemen and Enginemen, and the Switchmen's Union of North America. They represented 150,000 key railroad workers.

The unions have demanded a 30 per cent wage increase. The powerful Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Order of Railway Conductors originally made the same demand but settled last Nov. 14 for a 15½ cent hourly pay boost.

If the present mediation attempt fails, President Truman presumably would declare a national emergency and appoint a fact-finding board to investigate the dispute.

Under the law, no strike could be called for 30 days after appointment of the board.

burg and George Flora of the club board of directors.

Chief argument offered against the present lease of the ball grounds to the Cubs was the question of leasing city property to one organization using the property only a part of the year.

Question of using the park for football purposes apparently lost its leading advocate when Tennant declared the Angel's were not interested in the park as a football field. He had previously sought use of the park for his semi-pro team.

Harvey and other hardball backers were given assurance by Al Hamburg, member of the Cubs board of directors that any responsible hardball outfit could have use of the stadium when the Cubs were not scheduled, "at no cost except maintenance and restoration of the diamond to the condition in which it was found before the game was played."

Thus paving the way for a settlement of city baseball difficulties, the controversy continued over football fields with the pressure turning away from council to the city board of education for opening up Harding stadium for other than Harding and St. Mary, and more specifically the Angels.

Committee Appointed

Councilman Miller again asked for action and got it with a request for appointment of a council committee to confer with the board of education relative to opening up Harding stadium to professional football.

Named by Council President William Slack to serve on the committee were Miller, Clarence Sanden, sixth ward and Newton Cunningham, councilman-at-large.

Gene Fetter suggested the stadium be made available to the two high school with Harding given first priority in game schedules followed by St. Mary's, with other aggregations having third choice of a specified number of playing dates.

Routine business transacted by council included adoption of these ordinances: Authorizing City Solicitor John Watters to settle claims of Harold Hook for $46.39 and of John Ravencraft for $30.25; authorization to sell miscellaneous police department equipment no longer needed; ordinance establishing compensation of $10 per month to court bailiff for use of his automobile for city business; authorization to safety-service director to renew contract for fire protection to Marion Township.

Public hearing on the application of Orrie Swain of 230 West Pleasant street to operate an automobile service garage at that location was conducted with approval of the zoning change necessary granted by council.

AUTO DEALERS MEET

Marion Auto Dealers' association in the monthly meeting Monday accepted the resignation of David McKinney as president. He will be succeeded by Thomas Hill of Caledonia, former vice president of the association, Mr. McKinney said. Mr. Hill is the owner of a Chevrolet garage in Caledonia.

TWO HELD FOR COURT

Police today were holding an 18-year-old youth and a girl, 13, for juvenile court. The girl was found on North Greenwood street this morning at the home of a girl friend. Her parents reported last night she had been absent from home since Monday noon.

TWO TRUCKS COLLIDE

Trucks driven by Paul Benson, 20, of the Veterans Housing Unit and Gerald Andrews, 36, of 742 North State street, collided on West Fairground street at 11:15 a. m. today causing slight damage to both vehicles, the state highway patrol reported. Benson was driving a Railway Express truck and Andrews a state truck.

HULL

warn the country and to take steps to prevent its outbreak, if possible.

After war came to Europe Sept. 1, 1939, Mr. Hull describes the quickly moving foreign policy course of the United States and the efforts of his government to carry the effects of the war in the Western Hemisphere.

A series of graphic chapters reveal the steps the government took just before and after the fall of France and how the United States rushed to the support of embattled Britain. He gives a full exposition of American policy toward the Vichy government, and its results.

He reveals the sharp resentment of the president and himself against Gen. de Gaulle and the difficulties created by de Gaulle in relations between the United States and Britain.

EIGHT CHAPTERS are devoted to a play-by-play account of the former secretary of state's conversations with Japanese representatives in the months preceding Pearl Harbor. Mr. Hull gives his own account of the dramatic interview with Japanese Ambassadors Nomura and Kurusu on the day of the Pearl Harbor attack.

Two sections of the memoirs narrate the foreign policy developments between the time of Pearl Harbor and Mr. Hull's resignation. There is an interesting description of the formulation of the United Nations declaration, which bound together in an alliance the countries fighting the Axis, at the time Churchill was visiting Roosevelt in the White House.

One of the most important threads of narrative throughout the memoirs consists of relations between the United States and Russia. Beginning in 1933, Mr. Hull discloses many hitherto unrevealed details of the opening of diplomatic relations with the U.S.S.R. in that year, and of how these good relations quickly became exacerbated.

HE TELLS THE dramatic story of how an American attache came into possession late in 1940 of detailed information of Hitler's plans to attack Russia. He described the pressure brought by the president and himself in Britain to prevent the signing in 1942 of an Anglo-Russian agreement which would have recognized Russia's claim to the Baltic states and part of Finland.

As probably the chief exponent of the Good Neighbor policy, Mr. Hull devotes numerous chapters to the development of our relations with Latin America. He gives a comprehensive story of the Montevideo, Buenos Aires, Lima and Havana conferences which he attended.

Throughout, the former secretary of state gives graphic characterizations of the outstanding personalities of his period, both American and foreign, including Churchill, Canadian Prime Minister Mackenzie King, de Gaulle, and his colleagues of the cabinet, among them Secretaries Stimson, Knox, Wallace, Ickes and Morgenthau, as well as Undersecretary Welles.

ABOUT 85 PER CENT of the memoirs are concerned with Hull's tenure as secretary of state, but the first 15 per cent contains important material for the reader and the historian. He gives many interesting glimpses of Woodrow Wilson while Hull was chairman of the Democratic national committee from 1920 to 1924, including excerpts from a number of hitherto unpublished letters from Wilson to him containing the stricken president's counsel and advice.

Mr. Hull has been assisted in the writing of his memoirs by an old friend, Lt. Col. Andrue Berding, former veteran foreign and Washington correspondent, and an Oxford university graduate. Mr. Hull and he have devoted two entire years to the writing of the memoirs, having begun their work Jan. 1, 1946

Report Two Traffic Mishaps in Morrow Co.

Two accidents occuring near Mt. Gilead this morning were reported by state highway patrolmen here.

Wesley D. Setter, 30, of Mansfield, traveling south on route 42, struck a 650 pound sow on the highway about ten miles north of Mt. Gilead. The animal, owned by Roy Smith of Johnsville, was so seriously injured it had to be disposed of by the owner. The front of the car was damaged, patrolmen reported. The mishap occurred at about 7:30 a. m.

The tractor of an automobile transport truck was demolished when the driver, Stanley J. Jozwiak of Detroit, Mich., lost control of the truck and it struck a state highway bridge about one mile east of Mt. Gilead on route 95. The transport was not loaded at the time of the accident. Mr. Jozwiak suffered lacerations of the head and body and was treated at the office of a Mt. Gilead physician. The accident occurred at 9:40 a. m., highway patrolmen reported.

MORE FUNDS ASKED FOR DELAWARE DAM

Most of Ohio Money To Go for Work Now Started.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 — A spokesman for the Army Engineers said today that most of the $12,530,000 recommended by President Truman for eight Ohio flood control projects will be used to complete work already under way.

The projects included:

Dillon Dam near Zanesville, $3,000,000, relocation of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad (does not provide for actual work on proposed dam).

Berlin reservoir on the Mahoning river, 35 miles upstream from Warren, $204,300, to finish flood control work on a reservoir now under operation.

Muskingum river reservoirs in the Muskingum conservancy district in the Licking river area, $1,600,000, to increase discharge capacity below reservoirs through channel corrections and enlargement. This sum, the spokesman said, would "do most of" the work.

Delaware reservoir on the Olentangy river six miles above Delaware, $1,494,900, to complete flood control work.

Massillon, $2,000,000 to continue a flood control channel project in the city. The spokesman said an additional $1,000,000 will be required to complete.

Portsmouth-New Boston, $2,407,300, to finish flood walls, levies and pumping stations.

Burr Oak reservoir, three miles above Glouster, $239,400,000 for completion of a flood control reservoir.

CONFESSES

he had served a term for a sex offense on an 11-year-old boy.

Kriss said Beach gave the following details:

Around 1 p. m. on New Year's day, Beach left home to see some friends, failed to find them and went to a motion picture show. It was a double feature — "Savage Love" and "Native Bride."

He then returned home, took a kitchen knife, and once more walked out. He met Sheila Ann on 124th street, on the way to a drugstore to get cigarets for her father.

He gave her a quarter, took her up an alley and into a back yard.

After the stabbing—"I struck her in the back near the ribs"—he put the knife in his raincoat pocket, ran home and washed the weapon. Later that night he returned to the alley to see if he could "help" the girl.

She was gone. She evidently had managed to crawl to the porch from the backyard.

An investigation into Beach's whereabouts was started on information supplied by one of his Cleveland neighbors, who reported he disappeared the day after the slaying.

Rewards totaling $7,000 have been offered in Cleveland for the arrest and conviction of Sheila's slayer.

Beach "Loved Dice, Cokes and Juke Box"

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Jan. 13 — "He loved to roll dice, drink cokes and listen to trumpet music on the juke box," was a delicatessan operator's word picture today of Harold Beach, 23-year-old admitted slayer of Sheila Ann Tuley.

That description was drawn by Anthony Lanese, 29, who said Beach used to frequent his shop, sometimes gulping down three or four bottles of soda pop at a stretch.

"This fellow seemed to live in a world of his own," Lanese went on. "He was always by himself. I never saw him with a friend, although he used to come in here twice a day to listen to the juke box. He loved Harry James.

"He said he tried trumpet music, but had to give up because his lips twitched."

Last summer young Beach worked as an usher in the Ambassador theater, not far from where the little Tuley girl was found dead.

H. B. Sigman, manager of the Ambassador, said of Beach:

"He was very quiet. We never had any complaints about him. He quit without any notice to us and we never saw him again."

Stassen May Run In Ohio GOP Primary

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Jan. 13—Earl E. Hart, campaign manager for Presidential Candidate Harold Stassen, today opened a tour of Ohio cities to "sound out" sentiment in the home state of another Republican presidential aspirant, U. S. Sen. Robert A. Taft.

Hart, who scheduled Youngstown for his first stop, said Stassen will run in the Ohio primary this May "unless something happens to change the picture."

GANDHI BEGINS NEW FAST AS PEACE BID

By The Associated Press

NEW DELHI, INDIA, Jan. 13—Mohandas K. Gandhi, a frail little man of 78, embarked upon a new fast today in a bid to bring peace to divided, sectarian India.

He said it "will end when and if I am satisfied there is a reunion of the hearts of all communities brought about without any outside pressure, but from an awakened sense of duty."

The Hindu spiritual leader, in his public announcement, spoke of the possibility of death. Some disciples said they feared that if he should die, India's non-Moslems would blame the Moslems and avenge him with terrible slaughter.

"Death for me would be a glorious deliverence, rather than that I should be a helpless witness of the destruction of India, Hinduism, Sikhism and Islam," declared Gandhi, whose following numbers many thousands.

"That destruction is certain if Pakistan ensures no equality of the status and security of life and property for all professing the various faiths of the world, and if India copies her."

Pakistan, mostly Moslem in population, and India, mostly Hindu, were created British dominions in a partition of the subcontinent last Aug. 15.

They now are at odds over warfare waged by Moslem tribesmen upon the northern state of Kashmir, which has joined India. India has accused Pakistan before the United Nations of supporting the tribesmen. The case comes up before the security council Thursday.

Coroner Accused Of Illegal Dissection

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 13 — Franklin County Coroner Mitchell A. Spyker was accused today of dissecting human bodies "in order to aggrandize himself."

In a suit in common pleas court asking a declaratory judgment to stop the coroner "from pretending to have police authority and any other authority to dissect dead bodies and to expose them to public view," Mrs. Margaret Wilson said Dr. Spyker performed an autopsy without her permission on her husband's body after his death last Nov. 26.

She asserted Dr. Spyker, who is also a pathology instructor at Ohio State University, "removed and kept the brain * * * in order to aggrandize himself as a medical expert and teacher."

Dr. Sypker could not be located for comment.

He has been involved in a controversy with Columbus police over the investigation of the Elma C. Rice slaying near here Dec. 10, and Prosecutor Ralph F. Bartlett advised him in an official opinion last week that the coroner did not have general police powers.

PROBE MARYSVILLE, KENTON BURGLARIES

By International News Service

KENTON, Jan. 13—Safe and safers stole an estimated $1,[illegible] cash from safes in three Kenton business places over the weekend.

Police reported today that the burglaries were at the Nourse department store, the Barr company novelty store and a branch office of the Lima Loan company.

In addition to the safes cracked, the burglars damaged a second safe at the loan company and another in a branch office of the West Ohio Gas company without getting into either.

Kenton police were given brief descriptions of two suspects whom they are seeking.

MARYSVILLE — Local police and county authorities continued investigation today of a $600 burglary at the Marysville Tribune Saturday night. A large safe in the building was cracked open by knocking off the combination. The loss was discovered early Sunday by Fred Depp, Tribune custodian. Only clues were a number of shoe prints and fingerprints which are being checked. Burglars also ransacked a cash drawer in the office and took about $6 in stamps.

ROCKET SLEDS SLIDE 1,000 MPH ON TRACKS

By The Associated Press

MUROC AIR BASE, Calif., Jan. 13—Cracking of the wall of sound by unmanned rocket-powered sleds which streaked over railroad tracks at more than 1,000 miles an hour has been disclosed by Northrop aircraft engineers.

The sleds were propelled in secret experimental runs over 2,000 feet of standard gauge track in less than two seconds to break through the 763 M.P.H. (sea level) sonic barrier. Tests were started 15 months ago.

The 1,500-pound sleds were powered by five solid-fuel rockets each developing 10,000 pounds of thrust for 1.8 seconds.

Northrop engineers said the rocket sled reached a speed of 1,012 M.P.H. in the first test Sept. 20, 1946. Fastest run of 1,013 M.P.H. was recorded last March 7.

The vehicles slide on magnesium "slippers," flanged to fit over the rails.

Engineers have determined that with proper breaking facilities on the sled and a 10,000-foot track the vehicle can be stopped before running the full length of the track, S. E. Weaver, Northrop engineer, said.

"There are none better," the Lansfield owner said, but if Adams and Miller heard the encomiums, they gave no sign that the praise had registered. All their attention was facused on their prisoners.

"I'll go ahead and tell Olga you're coming," Olga's devoted husband said. "I'll come back to the door as soon as I've prepared her."

As he went to the door with his back safely turned to us, Dicky gave a prodigious wink, first at me, and then at Mr. "K." The FBI man grinned at him understandingly, while I clapped my handkerchief to my mouth for fear an audible giggle should escape me. I knew that Mr. "K." and Dicky were sharing my impression that Phil was giving an excellent imitation of a physician going to prepare a patient for the news that she must have a dangerous operation.

But his ridiculous manner did not affect his efficiency. He was back at the door in half a minute, beckoning to us, and flanked by Dicky and Mr. "K." I went into the library.

Olga was standing by her writing desk, and a glance told me that she had not yet completed the work my father had outlined in his letter. She did not rush forward to welcome me, as is her wont when I come up to the apartment, and I knew that she was holding herself in check.

"I am so relieved to see you, dear Madge," she said. "Do you need any service from me?"

"Not a thing," the FBI man said, "except permission to use this room for a conference, and afterward to use your private phone."

"Please consider the room your own," she said. "And if you do not need me, I will go back to my work."

She turned, without further words, and sat down at her desk. Mr. "K." paid her the tribute of acting as if she had left the room.

"Now, Mrs. Graham," he said when he and Dicky and Philip Veritzen had put me in a chair, "I am going to call on your wonderful memory."

PILES ARE NEVER "MILD"
DANGER IN NEGLECT

No one should ever think of piles (hemorrhoids) as a "mild" disorder.
Although they may seem a "mild" ailment, especially when not giving pain or inconvenience, piles are in fact tumor formations without tendency to heal themselves; instead, they are likely, if neglected to keep increasing in size, involving more and more of the rectal area.
Even a so-called "mild" case may be expected to undermine one's health, by inviting, predisposing to or aggravating other ailments, such as: indigestion, biliousness, stomach trouble, constipation, headaches pain in back and down the legs, secondary anemia with its rundown tired feeling and general nervous irritability.
Removal of piles is the only permanent relief — written guarantee. My method produces little or no discomfort, does not require the use of knife or drugs, and seldom is the patient required to lose any time from work or other duties.

COLUMBIA GAS SYSTEM

Columbia Gas & Electric Corporation is the parent of The Ohio Fuel Gas Company. Columbia also owns gas producing and distributing properties in Pennsylvania, Kentucky, West Virginia, New York, Virginia and Maryland. Together these companies constitute a completely integrated and coordinated gas system. Below are but a few of the services Columbia is performing to help get more gas for you.

Columbia

IS IN THERE PITCHING FOR MORE GAS, TOO — but still not enough!

GAS SUPPLY

Columbia has assisted its properties by pooling the purchases by subsidiaries for additional huge quantities of gas from the Southwest. Its engineers have joined ours, before the Federal Power Commission, seeking greater allocations of gas for our customers. It has aided pipeline companies so more gas could be transported into this area.

FINANCE

Columbia has financed the large construction projects of its subsidiaries necessary to improve the gas supply. In two years, by the end of 1947, Columbia companies have spent $53,000,000 for new construction,—new wells, pipelines, compressor stations, propane plants and underground storage fields. By the end of 1949, the System plans to spend an additional $74,000,000 on construction to supply the ever-increasing demands for gas.

COORDINATION

Through central dispatching of gas to its member companies, better service can be rendered to all communities served. This is especially helpful in maintaining service during periods of extremely cold weather—when demand for gas reaches high peaks. Also, a coordinated engineering program provides greater efficiency to all operations.

In spite of all efforts, shortages of gas will occur this winter. Any gas you and our other customers save now, can be stored underground for use later. With Columbia, Ohio Fuel Gas and all of our customers pulling together, gas shortages will be reduced to a minimum.

V.F.W., Navy Club, Guards Win in Vet Loop's 2nd Round

The Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Navy club preserved their undefeated records in the Marion City Veterans Basketball league at the Armory last night by winning over G. I. Post, American Legion, and the AMVETS respectively for a two win, no loss record.

Co. C, National Guard, moved into a second place tie with Bird-McGinnis Post, American Legion, by edging the latter, 32-31. They both have one and one records, while the AMVETS and G. I. Post are in the cellar with no wins.

Bird-McGinnis and Co. C started off the evening's three-game schedule before a crowd of 250 with a real thriller that the Guardsmen captured by a single point, 32-31.

The Guard grabbed an early lead, but Bird-McGinnis pushed within a basket of them at half-time, only to be outscored in the third frame, 10-8, as the Guard cagers widened the gap four points. A Legion rally in the last frame, climaxed by Don Williams' two-pointer in the last two seconds, fell short by one point. Dick Bigford collected 16 markers to lead the Guardsmen, while Paul Monnett was high for the losers with 15 points.

In the second game, the Navy club, who opened their play last week with a 2-0 forfeit win over the G I.'s, had an easy time with the AMVETS, walking away with a 31-18 decision. Dwight Altman led the winners with nine markers, but the Navy scoring was fairly well divided with Owen Creasap and Brunson collecting three goals apiece and Clayton Reed netting two. Leo Belknap and Mike McKinney led the AMVETS with six points each.

The V. F. W. poured it on the G. I. Post, 51-17, with Earl Van-Scoy pacing the one-sided attack with 14 markers. The V. F. W. led all the way and were never threatened. Lyn Coulter scored 12 points and Bud Reams 10 for the winners while Northland scored seven to pace the losers.

Kentucky Whips Ohio U., Indiana Drops State, 71-54

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 13—Coach Adolph Rupp sent his star-studded Kentucky Wildcats against a Buckeye quintet for the fourth time in 1947-48 play last night, and for the fourth time the 'Cats triumphed by a lop-sided margin.

Ohio university's Bobcats were the latest victims, 70-57. Earlier, the boys from the Blue Grass blasted Cincinnati, 67-31; Xavier, 79-37; and Miami, 65-53.

Elsewhere last night, Indiana finally managed its first Big Nine win of the season, handing luckless and young Ohio State its third conference loss in four tries, 71-54; Pete Wedemaier dumped in 24 points to lead Denison to a 91-35 rout of Rio Grande, and Capital stopped Kenyon, 81-68 despite the 34-point sharpshooting of Kenyon's Eppa Rixey.

Ohio U. made a game of it with Kentucky for a little better than a half. The Bobcats, behind 35-25 at halftime, pulled within six points before Al Groza and Jim Line sparked a rally that put Kentucky ahead, 54-34, seven minutes later. Line, Groza, Ralph Beard and Wallace (Wa Wa) Jones scored 71 of Kentucky's points. Dick Shrider's 24-point sniping kept Ohio U. in the game during the first half.

The Indiana-Ohio State game at Bloomington was a ragged affair. Officials whistled 47 personals. For the first ten minutes the game was nip-and-tuck. Then, Don Ritter, Indiana's high-scoring junior forward, hit two quick fielders and the Buckeyes never could catch up. It was 36-26 at halftime and at one point in the second half Indiana led, 63-29. The Hoosier reserves took over there.

At Columbus, Capital's once-beaten defending Ohio conference champions had a fairly easy time with Kenyon, kept in the game mainly because of Rixey's effort's.

NAVY SHOPS FOR CIVILIAN COACH

By The Associated Press

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 13 — The Navy, hoping an injection of outside blood will help give it a winning football team, went shopping today for a civilian coach.

Rear Adm. James L. Holloway Jr., academy superintendent, disclosed yesterday the Navy had abandoned the graduate coaching system in effect here for the last 14 years and that Capt. Tom Hamilton, who coached the Middies in 1946 and 1947, had been appointed director of athletics.

Navy's change of course came after two seasons during which it dropped 15 games, tied one and won only two.

Critics blamed the record on the rough schedule and on the system whereby officers were called in for a two or three year tour of duty as head coach and then shipped out again.

They were generally agreed that, under present day conditions, that no active Navy officer could hope to turn out consistent winners.

Admiral Holloway called in a panel of eight former Navy athletes to look over the situation last week.

He said the policy change reflected their recommendations.

A.A. TO BASE FINES ON PLAYER EARNINGS

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 13—Fines next season in the American Association will be based on how much the erring player earns, says President Frank C. Lane.

Lane explained that a $15 fine 'hurts" a low-salaried player as much as a $50 penalty does the higher-paid star.

Managers, he added, automatically fall in the "highest-paid-bracket."

IRISH TAKE ON HARPSTER TONIGHT

Coach Gene Fetter's basketball squad hit the road tonight as they travel to Harpster to meet Coach Joe McAlpin's courtmen.

Harpster, holding a three won and eight lost record out of eleven games played, is prepared to give the Irish some stiff competition, Coach McAlpine said. His team has won two and lost five in league play, but has scored almost as many points as their opponents have. Kenny Clark, playing at center will be the man to watch, having amassed an average of seventeen points per game.

As for the Irish of St. Mary, Coach Fetter said they are still sloppy on ball handling and foul shooting, but are almost consistent on field goals. In a voice dripping with pessimism, he said they might, conditions being right, come off the winner. The Irish have won seven and lost three.

On Friday night the Irish will play host to Columbus Holy Family in Edison gym, with the game scheduled to start at 7:30 p. m.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Hugh S Fullerton, jr

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 13—Rutgers university isn't exactly bidding for the proposed football of fame, but if anyone wants to put in a plug for the hall's establishment on the site of the first intercollegiate game (which still is available) Rutgers authorities would be very happy . . . . From this corner, it appears to be the most logical spot . . . If Columbia's Bill Swiacki can carry his pass-catching technique into pro football, the Giants should be a title threat again next year. They have Paul Governali and expect a few newcomers who can pitch.

BILL SANSING, U. of Texas tub-thumper, reports that the only bad feature of the Sugar Bowl trip was a visit to the fair grounds races before the game . . . One nag entered was "Texas score" carrying orange and white (Texas color) silks . . . The crowd backed him down from 75-1 to 6-1 . . . "Texas score' turned out to be a refugee from Sunnyside Dairies," Bill says. "She ran into the fence at the start of the home stretch (while running 14th in a field of 14) and came loping happily home three minutes later." . . . Alabama's Rea Schuessler topped that with the information that after the 1946 Rose Bowl game, the 'Bama boys went to Santa Anita and put the wad on a horse named "Crimson Tide." It fell in the backstretch and had to be shot.

Double Main Event On Wrestling Card

Wrestling matches to be staged at the Armory Thursday night will feature two main matches and one preliminary. Two out of three falls will win the main events

Tony Martingale and Rex Mobeley from Texas will grapple in the first 90-minute match, and Dutch Schultz of Houston, Texas, and Billy Rayburn of Atlanta, Ga., in the second Martingale of Milwaukee and Mobeley are wrestling in a return match. They wrestled at the Armory last week

Herb Williams and Bob Boulton both of Marion will start the grunt and groan contest with a preliminary event scheduled to start at 8:30 p. m.

FLASHES TAKE AMVETS

In a practice game played Saturday on the Y floor, the Harding Flashes trounced the AMVETS, 53-20, with Rodenberger netting 23 points to lead the scoring. Allan Ross tallied eight for the AMVETS.

BOWLING SCORES

Bill Barber hit a terrific 689 series in the Classic league Thursday for the highest series score turned in at the Palace this season. Spot Restaurant's Peifer, with a 557, Schuler, 618, Stephenson, 590, and Johnson, 606, combined with Bill for a total of 3060 pins—a score that will probably give the other teams in town something to shoot at all winter.

Six Classic bowlers in all made 600 series or better last night. And twenty-one keglers in the Classic league had a single game high of 200 or better. Lou Burdell, bowling on the Smart & Waddell team, was top man with 276.

Bowling in the Ladies Thursday Afternoon league, Margaret Spurlock took single high honors with 136, while Opal Stroupe's 468 was good for the individual high three-game total.

Huber Bowling league was led by Stan Thompson with 217 for high single game for men. Helen Zeigler's 181 was high for women. Helen also got 478 for three games, while Dick Acker got 557 for men's high in three games.

In last night's bowling at the Marion Rec, La Valley had single nigh with 212, and J. Shannon 610 in three games for Marion Engineer Depot.

In the Fraternal league, L. Felgar had 227 for single high and 564 series to outclass his brother bowlers.

PREXY LINEUP CHANGES SEEN

Somerlot May Turn to Sophs for Tiffin Game.

Harding Prexies will journey to Tiffin Friday to play Tiffin High school's (won 2, lost 6) courtsters. This will be the first engagement for these two schools in ten to fifteen years.

In their two wins, Tiffin defeated Willard, 44-27, and Bowling Green, 47-40. Fostoria got by them 48 to 43, and Findlay, potential state champs, trounced them 51-12.

Tiffin has one good boy, Glen Bare, a six foot center who is averaging eighteen points per game. The rest of the starting five are Tom Company and Paul Harrison at forward and guard respectively, both fair ball players, and Harry Spidle and Duane Miller at the other forward and guard spots.

Harding Coach Kenny Somerlot expressed dissatisfaction with his team's showing this season and plans to make some drastic changes in the lineup if there isn't some voluntary improvement done on the player's part. Some of the seniors have not measured up to expectations, Kenny said.

"We are almost half through our schedule for the year and we still don't have a smooth working combine to send against our opponents," he said.

"In the future games I plan to floor an all junior and sophomore five in an effort to develop some material for the future. This does not mean that I am going to change the combination and let the sophomores and juniors get accustomed to playing as a unit."

The Harding hoopsters to date have won two and lost four.

On Saturday, Harding will entertain Columbus North on the Edison floor, first game to start at 7:30 p. m.

Charles Fights Moore In Cleveland Tonight

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Jan. 13—Ezzard Charles and Archie Moore, the two top contenders for the light heavyweight title, tee off on each other in a 15-rounder at the Arena tonight, with the winner expecting to get a crack at Gus Lesnevich's crown sometime this summer.

Matchmaker Larry Atkins has billed tonight's slug party as a battle for the light heavy championship, claiming that Lesnevich has evaded Charles for a March 5 bout with Billy Fox, the Philadelphia clouter who already has been knocked out by Lesnevich.

The National Boxing association still recognizes Lesnevich as champion, but President Abe Greene has declared the N.B.A. will call upon the winner of the Lesnevich-Fox fight to defend his title against tonight's winner.

M'Millen Tops Schlairet, 52-36 For 1st Round Y.M.C.A. Title

McMillen Feeds copped the Y. M. C. A. Monday night league first round championship at the Y last night handing Schlairet Transfer its first loss in six frays, 52-36. McMillen keeps its clean record with six and no defeats.

In two other contests scheduled for the same program Hensel Brothers stopped Smith's Clothing, 55-42, and Carroll's Jewelry won on a forfeit from Green Camp K. of P. who failed to floor five men, 2-0.

Winterstellar again was the big gun for McMillen as he flipped eleven two-pointers and two fouls for tweny-four of his team's total points. Schlairet and McMillen played on even terms until mid-way in the fourth quarter when Winterstellar and Jones broke up the game as each netted ten counters in the final period.

Dave Hensel and Vernon Hensel netted sixteen and fourteen points each in pacing Hensel Brothers in their win while Max Roseberry was hot for the Smith's with twenty-three tallies.

By The Associated Press

INGLEWOOD, Calif., Jan. 13—Movie magnate Louis B. Mayer, disposing of another chunk of his racing empire, sold 39 two-year-olds for a total of $1,033,250 at auction last night.

Records were unavailable here but it was believed the dispersal, with its average sale of $26,493.50, established a record for disposal, of two-year-olds, none of which has ever raced.

The top price was $70,000 for Imperial Rock, two-year-old son of Alabhai and Herrybuilt, bought by Jay Paley, millionaire sportsman of Los Angeles and New York, after spirited bidding with Louis Bronstein, Los Angeles ice cream magnate.

Feller and Veeck Open Contract Negotiations

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 13—Bob Feller the highest paid athlete in the history of baseball, will open salary negotiations here tomorrow with Cleveland Indians' President Bill Veeck.

The Tribe's fireball hurler will arrive here tonight and after a conference with Veeck tomorrow will proceed to New York where he has a business engagement. He has been vacationing at his winter lodge in Eagle River, Wis.

Veeck disclosed for the first time that Feller received $87,000 last year in a total of base pay, bonuses and expense money.

This exceeds by $7,000 the previous high paid to Babe Ruth in 1930 and 1931 by the New York Yankees.

Although he declared that Feller's bonus would begin at 1,000,000 paid admissions this season instead of 750,000, Veeck maintained that the hurler would remain the highest paid performer in baseball.

Veeck doesn't anticipate much trouble in signing Feller.

The Tribe president also announced that pitchers Ed Klieman and Bob Kuzava had agreed to terms, swelling the list of signed players to nine.

Red Blood Cells Must Be Kept Up If You Want To Feel Alive

Thousands Now Regaining Old Time Pep, Vigor and Drive By Releasing Vibrant Energy To Every Muscle, Fibre, Cell

Overwork, undue worry, and lack of certain foods often reduces the red-blood strength—and starved, weak, puny blood just hasn't the power to keep up your energy and drive.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that 666 Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the 666 Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, 666 Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juices when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloat and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on 666 Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. 666 Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS — Keeping pace with the mounting accident toll throughout the country, Bucyrus' accident rate in 1947 showed a marked increase, Safety Officer Lt. Charles Ghist of the Bucyrus police department reported in his annual accident report.

STATUE HAS "NEW LOOK"

By The Associated Press

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Jan. 12—The torch of the Statue of Liberty had a new look about it last night—and residents of this and nearby municipalities flooded police headquarters with inquiries about the strange bluish-green rays shining over the harbor. N. H. Foster, superintendent of the statue, reported that six of the 13 1,000-watt lamps which illuminate the torch burned out over the weekend, and were mistakenly replaced with vapor lamps, which normally are used to floodlight the statue. Foster said the situation would be corrected today.
